

United States of America 1993-1994

After my 10th year in school I took a break from Germany and went as an exchange student for one year to Michigan, USA. I stayed in Alpena for one month and moved then to Walkerville, near Muskegon. I lived there on a farm with the Miller family. It has been a great time and I will always remember the hunting, the butchering, the farm life and my friends at school. We made a few trips to Grand Rapids, Ohio and Georgia. The states are an interesting place to live because of all the different cultures and the largeness of the landscape. On the following pictures you can see a few impressions of my stay there.
